Welcome to the 1st edition of the CIVIC GREEN project's E-Newsletter! In this release, we are excited to provide updates on the project's objectives and milestones. The CIVIC GREEN project is driven by a twofold mission. Firstly, it seeks to cultivate a culture of active citizenship, empowering European citizens and public institutions with heightened environmental knowledge, thereby fostering improved conditions for civic participation and democratic engagement. Secondly, the project endeavors to proactively engage European citizens in the vigilance of environmental policies and initiatives, encouraging their active participation in the monitoring process.
